A. (UNCLAS//) GENERAL ASSESSMENT:

The People's Republic of Pineland (PRP) leadership continues to consolidate gains from the military intervention. At this point, the UPA armed forces have co-located with the elements of the ROP military that also seceded from ROP authority. A number of violent confrontations continue to mark this period.

//UNCLASSIFIED// (INTSUM 24 W+008 to W+014)

Some engagements were conventional in nature while others have pitted UPA regular forces against a rising anti-PRP militant force. The growing militant resistance to the new PRP regime is coordinated by a number of opposition splinter groups formed from the original pro-ROP Conservative Party Underground (CPU) organizations. Furthermore, some unorganized opposition groups materialized in the past 24 hours and are leveling violent attacks on the PRP Internal Security Forces trying to secure Asheboro, Durham, Greensboro, Jacksonville, Raleigh, Winston-Salem, and Wilmington. The opposition militant resistance forces are employing a variety of methods from sniper attacks to improvised incendiary devices (IIDs). At this point, the opposition militant forces are focused on targeting Liberal Progressive Party (LPP) loyalist police precincts. To quell the rising violence, the PRP Internal Security Corps (ISC) instituted a number of population and resource control (PRC) measures. The most significant is the new weapons ruling that makes personal gun ownership in the PRP a crime. Other PRC measures require a new national identity card, workers' permits, and ration cards. These PRC initiatives are coordinated by the internal security forces and implemented by the existing law enforcement loyal to the new regime.

Newly appointed President Paton also opened the voting rights to several sectors that in the past were denied suffrage rights. The interim allowance permits the following to vote in the PRP: 1) All citizens born in north and south Pineland regardless of race, color, gender or previous condition of servitude; 2) Must be eighteen years of age on the day of the election; 3) not be convicted of a felony charge; 4) is declared mentally stable by law and 5) passed elementary school. Affiliates of the LPP appointed over the last several years are emerging into leadership positions to help implement these new rules and laws that are intended to benefit the marginalized population in the PRP. Concurrently, members of the Conservative Party (CP) and Protestant People's Party (PPP) are organizing viable opposition political factions to support a pro-ROP constituency both in the SPP, as well as in the PRP. The prime movers for the ISC-effecting PRC measures are the County Sheriffs in each Territory. The ISC command structure is slowly consolidating security functions from multiple jurisdictions into a single chain of command.

The new PRP government is considering enlisting some of the previous militant factions aligned with the minority movements in the former NPP. They are primarily focused on the demobilized fighters of the Celtic Union Insurgent Army (CUIA) and AWENASA [means "My Home" in Cherokee; believed to be a transnational criminal organization (TCO)], but have also considered some of the technically proficient members of the Wesui Umoja (WU) and the Atlantica Arabian Twelvers (the Ithna'ashariyya) Islamic Movement (ATTIMO). PRP lawyers even held discussions on the integration of some of the more moderates into the 3rd ISC or, possibly, their integration into a separate internal security force within their own communities called the Urban Internal Security Guard (UISG).

On (W+009), the United Nations, Russia, and China recognized the sovereignty of the new government. In addition, many third world countries have also acknowledged the PRP.

(SIGACT ROP-S034-ASH-W+010), Reported by ROP Military Headquarters (HQ), Columbia, SPP, 1424 hours, UPA 10th Mountain Task Force Replacement Center was attacked by a resistance element. The 430th guerrilla band operating in the area initiated the ambush on the UPA troop transport. The loyalist resistance forces used small arms and a 40-pound underbelly improvised explosive device (IED) to set off the ambush that consisted of a small arms engagement that left twenty UPA soldiers killed and twenty-five UPA soldiers wounded.

2) (U) PIEDMONT

Multiple violent engagements occurred this week between advancing UPA military, ROP military forces loyal to the ROP, and a growing resistance force also aligned with the ROP.

Open Source Intelligence (OSINT): IIR 24-17-76-GJK1 ABN News “Senior Leaders discuss future of PRP at Fayetteville Conference” (W+010)

(ABN News) Fayetteville, PRP (formerly the NPP). The independent and anti-violence group “Safeguard Titanism International” (STI) participated as observers in a senior LPP military and civilian leadership forum. The debate brought together members of the PRP senior leadership council represented by the new President David M. Paton; Vice President Shan B. McLaughlin III; National Security Advisor George R. Pittard; and Foreign Information Service (FIS) Director Kimberley Canteth-Coruthers with the PRP National Security Advisory Council—comprised of the Governors of each of the Territories and General Nicholas Christian with his staff of the 3rd Internal Security Corps. Also in attendance were the UPA Ambassador Zane T. Parker and his three senior UPA military officers- General Wes Hinson Commander, Combined Joint People’s Liberation Task Force-151 (CJPLTF-151); Lieutenant General Tae Moes, Commander XV Corps; and Lieutenant General William Hammerhault, Commander, First Marine Expeditionary Force. After the conference concluded, a majority of the participants agreed that the internal defense strategy in support of the security issues were in position. They also re-iterated in a joint statement that the 30th Mechanized Infantry Division (MID) would in fact transition to the 3rd Internal Security Corps. Upon this conversion, the 3rd ISC would then carryout the PRP strategic internal defense strategy. In closing, General Christian told reporters that the 3rd ISC and UPA forces would be under the operational control of the 3rd ISC Counter Guerilla Command.

(SIGACT ROP-S034-DUR-W+012), Reported by ROP Bureau of Investigation (RBI), Columbia, SPP, 1224 hours. National PRP Identification Registration facilities in Durham, Raleigh, and Wilmington were attacked by snipers attempting to harass PRP citizens who were registering for identification cards. Many PRP citizens support the registration effort and desire to be a part of the election process promised by the PRP government. Snipers fired at the internal security forces guarding the facilities, and in one instance in Durham, caused panic and ignited an uncontrollable mob trampling young children. An estimated twenty children and several adults were injured or killed in the incident.

3) (U) COASTAL

Conditions in the Coastal Territory are progressively deteriorating. Elements of the newly formed pro-ROP resistance are actively countering PRP and UPA advances. Several small pockets of resistance composed of CP and the PPP associates are targeting LPP civil authorities and infrastructure facilities. The LPP internal security forces are responding, but due to the lack of human intelligence in the area, are unable to capture or kill the resisters. In Wilmington, three officers from the internal security force were killed when a victim operated underbelly IED detonated beneath their armored vehicle in the vicinity of Carolina Beach road and the Myrtle Grove junction. Additionally, in neighborhoods with significant support for the CP and PPP, graffiti was painted on the walls of buildings and parked automobiles, condemning the LPP takeover of the former NPP, and advocating the return of the "ROP ruling families" signed by the GRA.

Several protests occurred in the Wilmington town center; this time led by the Old Irish English Protestant Heritage Group (OIEPHEG) and a splinter group: "ROP Loyalist Underground East Conservative Party" (RLUECP). The college-age protesters occupied a busy market area with approximately two thousand affiliates. The protesters forced several businesses to close, and the PRP security forces dispersed the crowds using water cannons. The protesters demanded a return of the sovereign ROP government and voiced their dissatisfaction toward the illegal PRP government.

(SIGACT ROP-S021-LEJ-W+011), Reported by ROP Military HQ, Columbia, SPP, 2234 hours. The UPA 2nd Marine Regimental Headquarters, 1st Marine Expeditionary Force (MEF) received twenty-three rounds of

//UNCLASSIFIED// (INTSUM 24 W+008 to W+014)

81mm mortar fire. At 2108 hours, the regiment reported light damage to the headquarters, which destroyed a part of the motor pool, but resulted in no casualties. 0 X KIA, 0 X WIA.

(SIGACT ROP-S022-LEJ-W+011), Reported by ROP Military HQ, Columbia, SPP, 2122 hours. UPA 2nd Marine Regimental headquarters: Two UPA marine convoys from Sunny Point National Guard Terminal N32 2' 19" 078 3' 14" W were ambushed by suspected elements of the 120th guerrilla band. Convoy lost ammunition, rations, and weapons during the raid. 5 X KIA, 2 X WIA, 3 X MIA.

(SIGACT ROP-S023-LEJ-W+012), Reported by ROP Military HQ, Columbia, SPP, 0126 hours. UPA 2nd Marine Regimental headquarters: UPA 2nd Regiment Marines launched a counter-terrorism task force after the raid that consisted of a scout and sniper team, two infantry companies, and a heavy mortar battery. The force directed a heavy mortar attack on a suspected guerrilla location. After combing the impact area, the Marines found eighteen dead, twelve wounded, and four incoherent guerrillas wearing ROP uniforms with a 120th Infantry crest on the left breast pocket. The UPA Marines also discovered two 81mm mortars, eight high-explosive mortar rounds, thirty-four M-16A2 rifles, and five thousand two hundred 5.56mm rounds.

(SIGACT ROP-S034-LAR-W+013), Reported by ROP Military HQ, Columbia, SPP, 1126 hours. The 252nd Guerrilla band attacked the headquarters elements of the UPA 28th Airborne Task Force at the Laurinburg airport. The 252nd Guerrilla band also received counter-mortar fire that resulted in three resistance members killed. The 28th Airborne Task Force sent out a patrol to the suspected mortar position and recovered the enemy's dead and equipment. 5 X KIA (UPA Military), 2 X WIA (UPA Military), 1 X KIA (Pro-ROP Resistance fighters), 2 X WIA (Pro-ROP Resistance fighters).

4) (Exercise Classified) OTHER (UPA):

The UPA government provided reassurances to its citizens that the engagement in the PRP was limited and that many of the soldiers will soon return to the UPA. The UPA Vice President announced at the United Nations (UN) that the ROP and the UPA forces will honor the cease fire and the ROP soldiers killed, wounded, and captured would be returned to the ROP government through the International Red Cross on (W+018).

Signal Intelligence (SIGINT)/Exercise HUMINT Classified National Security Agency (NSA), (W+012) Multiple large UPA civilian convoys are traveling south, and entering the PRP from the Old Dominion Province, UPA on International Highways 95 and 85. These UPA civilian convoys are transporting logistical support materials and personnel to an undisclosed location in support of the CJPLTF-151 security assistance programs.

Analyst Notes: These civilian logistic transfers of military personnel and equipment are essential to the establishment of the 3rd Internal Security Corps.

NSA Analyst Notes: UPA's intercept and radio direction finding (RDF) capabilities are very similar to the US capabilities; however, they are closely controlled at the brigade level and higher. The PRP military has limited capabilities, but many local first responders use commercial type scanners.

5) (U) OTHER (ROP):

The US CJTF-30 has been established and is operational at Fort Jackson, SPP. The ROP Government also sent a delegation to the United Nations led by the ROP Vice President, Richard Coruthers-Scott, and the ROP Ambassador to the UN, Ambassador George Hale-Canteth. The UN Security Council held an emergency session to vote on the PRP's acceptance as a member of the international community. The ROP, United Kingdom (UK), and the US voted against the measure. Russian and Chinese delegations both warned the ROP that they would send troops to the PRP if any military action were taken in the former NPP. The CP and the PPP continued to promote work stoppages and encouraged many businesses in the former NPP to close and remain opposed to the PRP. Since the economy in the PRP cannot survive without support from the ROP government, the CP and PPP remain optimistic that the PRP will fail. The CP and PPP also believe that the current party in power in the UPA, the Atlantican Democratic Union (ADU), desires to appropriate the natural resources in the former NPP, specifically, uranium deposits, gold, and natural gas.

6) (UNCLAS//Not Releasable to ROP) United States Interagency (IA) Actions:

US Congress held an emergency session on (W+009) to debate US involvement. A majority agreed to assist the ROP, but concluded that conventional forces should only be used to defend against further aggression by the UPA and the PRP. However, the members of House Armed Services Committee (HASC) approved that select Special Operations Forces would be used to support any legitimate resistance movement. The US President expressed concerns that the current status of commitment of military forces are overextended so that conventional forces must only be used in a defensive posture.

Operations Order DTG W+009-1056Z directed units from Joint Task Force-30 (JTF-30) to the following actions in accordance with the approved crisis action planning (CAP) on (W+011) through (W+014):

1. The US 3rd Regiment, 2nd Marine Expeditionary Force (MEF) conducts a relief in place (RIP) with ROP 2nd Battalion, 2nd Armor Division northeast of Conway. The new area of operations stretches from Lumbee River, east to the Atlantic Ocean.
2. US 1st Regiment, 2nd MEF conducts a RIP with the ROP 3rd Battalion, 2nd Armor Division at Little Rock. Their area of operations is from five kilometers west of SPP Highway 1/401 east to Lumber River.
3. The US 2nd MEF Combat Equipment will be on station at Charleston Air and Naval Base, SPP no later than (W+012).
4. Commander, US JTF-30 will conduct both air and ground reconnaissance to determine composition, disposition, and strength of advancing UPA and loyalist PRP forces.

The US 2nd MEF continues its deployment along the north-south Pineland border, east of the ROP 2nd AD. On (W+010), JTF-30 announced that it will immediately begin combat air patrol flights over the ROP controlled territory, and additional ground forces will arrive on (W+016). The Hale-Canteth government also stated that UPA forces will be destroyed if they cross into the SPP. In response to the UPA CJPLTF-151 military actions along the north-south Pineland border in the PRP, the US deployed the US 10th Mountain Division and the 3rd MID from the 18th Airborne Corps to the ROP.

C. ADDITIONAL REPORTING (SIGNIFICANT THREATS)

Air. Nothing Significant to Report

Paramilitary/Irregular/Other.

The secession has encouraged conservative leaning groups to better organize, and this has flooded the recruitment of violent militant factions, especially the GRA. The PRP Attorney General even commented on (W+009) that: "... the change in regime and the additional demands of the minorities have provoked the GRA to employ additional hit squads in some urban and rural areas." On (W+010), The Columbia City Police department was attacked by GRA hit squads. The Columbia City Police quickly countered the engagement by surrounding the GRA aggressors. It was only after arrival of the Columbia Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) unit that the suspected GRA operatives surrendered. This escalation of violence is indicative of a renewed desire to use violence to achieve the ends of the prior majority conservatives. Members of this specific GRA hit squad were under the age of twenty, well dressed, and came from affluent families. The group had in their possession literature from the GRA urban terrorist cyber cookbook disc available on an underground web site.

//UNCLASSIFIED// (INTSUM 24 W+008 to W+014)

ROP loyalists from the CP and the PPP formed additional underground command and control, communications, intelligence, and logistics components to control the ROP civilian resistance in the former NPP. Originally titled as the Conservative Party Underground East and West, the urban command and control associations splintered into more fractured organizations named the Conservative Protestant Party Underground Component (COPPUC) with three subordinate components— East (COPPUCE); Central (COPPUCEN) and West (COPPUCW). The COPPUC requested that the military units still loyal to the ROP in the PRP be placed under its command. COPPUCE issued a statement regarding the following uncorroborated significant activities:

- (1) 2103 hours, reported that the 120th guerrilla band of the ROP resistance conducted a mortar attack on the UPA 2nd Marine Expeditionary Regiment headquarters south of Old Dock. Additionally, elements of the 120th guerrilla band had ambushed the two convoys from the Sunny Point National Guard terminal.
- (2) 2119 hours, elements of the ROP loyalist, 120th guerrilla band ambushed a medium cargo truck in the vicinity of N34° 6.102', W78° 33.240', to N34° 6.626', W78° 33.513'. The ambush resulted in the death of six UPA soldiers and the recovery of many military supplies
- (3) A second element of the ROP loyalist, 120th guerrilla band ambushed a light cargo truck in the vicinity of N34° 1.592', W78° 29.873', to N34° 1.867', N78° 29.929', killing four, capturing two, and recovering numerous military supplies. The 120th guerrilla band did not suffer any casualties.
- (4) A convoy was traveling south toward Rocky Mount on International Highway 95, and is currently in the vicinity of N35° 57.556', W77° 48.116', off Highway 43, near a warehouse on an unknown street.
- (5) At 0004 hours, a convoy on international highway 85, north of Durham. Its current location is in the vicinity of N36° 2.192', W78° 49.408' near a heavily guarded warehouse on an unknown street.
- (6) A second large convoy on Highway 29, north of Greensboro, near a Townsend Road warehouse, located in the vicinity of N36° 9.991', W79° 44.577'.
- (7) A third convoy off International Highway 77 in Statesville, near the Bond Street warehouse, located in the vicinity of N35° 46.458', W80° 52.880'. Reports indicate that the warehouse remains heavily guarded.

Analyst Notes: UPA counter-guerrilla force is under the operational control of the PRP internal security force and the 3rd ISC. A fledgling urban internal security guard, composed of previous insurgent fighters, will only succeed if the PRP can achieve legitimacy from the overarching population. Additionally, PRP national development programs will be most effective once the population feels secured and trusts the PRP government.

PRP intends to gradually assimilate the local police and other civil authorities into the 3rd ISC and subordinate units without major disruption to provide day-to-day law and order. The criminal resistance and intelligence (CRI) teams, and the wildlife, fish, and forest (WFF) teams are responsible for targeting resistance activities in rural and urban areas. The CRI is responsible for urban areas, and the WFF is responsible for rural areas. In the urban communities, the resistance leaders and cells are being actively targeted by CRI human intelligence and police special weapons assault units. Some of these operations occur independent of military support, but others include assets from the UPA military counter-guerrilla forces. In rural areas and communities, resistance leaders and cells are targeted by the WFF human intelligence. At the moment, UPA military is maintaining a minimal physical presence in counter-insurgent (COIN) operations against the resistance forces. In keeping with the overarching strategy of the PRP government to achieve legitimacy and control of the overall population, the UPA presence is being shadowed.

//UNCLASSIFIED// (INTSUM 24 W+008 to W+014)

D. CIVIL CONSIDERATIONS AND IMPACTS

Major disruptions to infrastructure and services are taking a toll on the population in the urban areas. Garbage piles and frequent power outages in these major population centers are making life much more challenging than even a few weeks ago. The rural areas are less impacted, but are finding basic foodstuffs difficult to locate. Oil, bread, and cheese are hard to find and prices are increasing due to these shortages.

(C) UPA MILITARY UNITS ASSISTING PRP REGIME (95% STRENGTH)

The UPA 15th Corps completed its headquarters complex south of Concord, at Goose Creek airport. Multiple intermediate support bases are also established for each of its subordinate divisions. The 3rd Brigade, 28th Airborne Task Force secured major airports in Hamlet, Charlotte, Greensboro, and Raleigh-Durham, until other UPA armed forces and the LPP loyalist internal security forces relieve it, clearing out the ROP loyalist military and civilian resistance. The LPP loyalists of the 30th MID and CJPLTF-151 secured the north-south Pineland border with the UPA units, employing defensive measures to prevent a counter-attack from the ROP military and its allies. The LPP internal security forces continued clearing out pockets of the ROP loyalist resistance, while simultaneously organizing the 3rd ISC. The demobilization of the 30th MID and the Division's transition to the 3rd ISC is scheduled for (W+040). In addition to the main facility at Camp Mackall, three other counter-guerilla training facilities are being established. One in the Coastal Territory for the 14th Internal Security Division at Camp Lejeune; another in the Piedmont Territory for the 7th Internal Security Division at Fort Bragg; and the last one in the Mountain Territory for the 21st Internal Security Division at Camp Lake James.

UPA armed forces continue operations in the PRP supported by pro-PRP armed forces and a limited number of internal security forces. UPA logistic convoys continued to move material south in support of the military operations. This logistic trail is one of UPA's critical capabilities. Morale of the UPA military forces is high, but some minor friction is emerging between the PRP ISC and some elements of the leadership.

A summary of major actions:

- a. Ground- On (W+008), 0014 hours, the UPA CJPLTF-151 finalized its consolidation on the north-south pineland border; adjusted its area of responsibility (AOR); employed active patrolling; employed defensive measures; and removed civilians to specific detention camps as directed by the respective PRP territorial governors. Many road networks along the border were dismantled and areas mined with anti-personnel and anti-tank mines. Additionally, UPA engineers and LPP loyalists from the 430th Engineers emplaced anti-tank ditches. They also reinforced tunnels and bunker complexes constructed for the forward-deployed units and their logistics.
- b. Air- The PRP 315th Fighter Squadron and the UPA 49th Fighter Task Force patrolled the north-south Pineland border without incident between (W+008) and (W+014). On (W+014), 2258 hours, an aerial intercept occurred between the PRP 350th Fighter Bravo flight and a single F-4 fighter aircraft from the ROP 311th Fighter Squadron east of Laurinburg in Robeson County. Within seconds, the ROP F-4 was shot down. The two ROP pilots ejected and were captured by the UPA 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, 28th Airborne Task Force.
- c. Airborne- The 28th Airborne Task Force continued to secure and adjust defensive positions on the north-south pineland border.

Updated in separate reporting.

K. OVERALL ESTIMATE

Estimates indicate the UPA will continue to support interests of the PRP government and the loyalist forces on maintaining control of the population. Current analysis also points out that the objective of the LPP government is to defend the PRP and not to become an aggressor state and advance into the SPP for fear of repercussions by the international community. The ROP continues to actively engage the international community, and this week received military assistance from the US now positioned on the SPP-NPP border. President Hale-Canteth continues to assert that ROP forces will liberate the oppressed people of the PRP as soon as possible with or without the support of the international community. The ROP 2nd AD continues to defend the border from Oconee County to five kilometers west of SPP highway 15/401 in Chesterfield County, SPP.

The PRP internal security forces, along with its initial PRC measures, continue to tighten its grip on the PRP citizens. However, there are a growing number of reports of demonstrations, work stoppages, and ROP loyalist resistance forces in many of the population centers. The PRP government's major obstacles are the organized guerrilla forces from the ROP military units and the large discontent within population mass support bases in the 1st and 4th Congressional Districts. The PRP internal security forces in Fayetteville, Raleigh, Durham, and Wilmington are actively arresting numerous conservative party members and suspected factions aligned with the PPP. The ISC arrested three known CP leaders and four PPP members in connection with the death of children and adults after the shooting at the National Identification Center.

PRP President Paton held a news conference on national television to announce to the citizens that their first election will be sooner than expected. He announced that there would be two elections on (W+110). The first election will be to select senators to the PRP congressional upper house. The second election will select deputies for the new congressional districts based on last year's taxes. The PRP Attorney General stated that the CP and the PPP continued supporting work stoppages. The UPA, the ROA, and the Republic of Columbus (ROC) have begun providing economic aid to the PRP government. PRP and the UPA delegation spoke before the UN general assembly to announce a cease-fire and requested the assembly to recognize the PRP as a sovereign nation living free from outside intervention.
