A. (UNCLAS//Not releasable to the ROP) GENERAL ASSESSMENT:

This week United Provinces of Atlantica (UPA) forces postured for a full---scale Emergency Deployment Readiness Exercise (EDREX) “Operation Pit Bull.” The scenario calls for a simulated invasion of red Northland forces in the Brookneal Region into the defending blue Southland forces located in Danville, UPA. This represents a large-scale operation that involves most of the UPA’s military forces. Numerous foreign advisors were also on site to observe the military exercise. A summary of deployments and military unit movements is located in Section 4. The NPP is still experiencing large and disruptive protests from both the Minority and Agrarian Reform Movement (MARM) and the opposition Old Irish English Protestant Heritage Group (OIEPHEG) movement. A new opposition group is also voicing a very strong criticism of the violence that is gripping the NPP. This fringe atheist group blames the current situation on organizations and leaders associated with all denominations. This group is ideologically aligned with the MARM movement. Overall, continued demonstrations are causing major disruptions to traffic patterns and prolong work stoppages in NPP. Small demonstrations even erupted in the usually quiet towns of the Nantahala region in protest of the Peace Process delays. Governor Paton has been assuming authority in matters normally reserved for the Republic of Pineland (ROP) legislature and President Canteth. One example occurred on W-005 when the Paton Government issued a verbal pardon order for all the armed groups in the Tri-Border Regions (TBRs). This news created an enormous amount of controversy in the ROP legislature with many Protestant People's Party (PPP) and Conservative Party (CP) congressmen calling for the removal of the NPP Governor. The legislators later, on W-003, withdrew the constitutional amendments that were in plenary for the rights of the sharecroppers and minorities in NPP. The pardon also evoked a significant amount of support from the MARM and an equal amount of discontent from the OIEPHEG and PPP party in NPP. A number of key elections were held this week in a number of Congressional Districts, which saw changes from the CP to the Liberal Progressive Party (LPP). The highest judge in the NPP was also appointed from a close circle of Paton's friends. The MARM is still organizing the protests, and a splinter political group emerged from the MARM core representing many of the militant groups in NPP. This political movement was initially organized in the Republic of Columbus (ROC) by NPP expatriates and is now showing a physical presence in the NPP. This political opposition faction represents some of the disenfranchised members of the AWENASA [means "My Home" in Cherokee]; believed to be a transnational criminal organization (TCO) and the Celtic Union Insurgent Army (CUIA) that did not participate in the peace process, as well as members from the Wesui Umoja (WU) and Atlantica Arabian Twelvers (the Ithna'ashariyya) Islamic Movement (AATIMO). They are known as the Pineland Freedom Coordination Committees (PFCC). Counter Insurgency patrols are targeting God's Right Arm (GRA) supporters almost exclusively. Area of Operation (AO) Buck is still a dangerous place, but some trends are improving. The Criminal Resistance Intelligence (CRI) networks are providing better intelligence and eliciting more support from towns, which were once aligned with violent groups. One significant event involved an accusation within the Terrorist Insurgent and Lawless Task Force (TILTF) against the director and his connections with the UPA and possibly to Iran's Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC). Overall kinetic attacks dropped slightly. Some GRA insurgents are using children to emplace or monitor areas where improvised explosive devices (IEDs) are located. This trend is very concerning for ROP forces.

Analyst Comments: The so-called coordination committees that are forming were inspired by similar networks in the Arab Spring of 2010. The term is loosely used to describe a number of different movements dominated by youth activists. They are mainly engaged in media activism, and often include young activists in exile who use the Internet and other social media to relay information from contacts inside NPP. Most coordination groups try to connect local demonstrator networks (normally organized in a single neighborhood, town or city) to each other, by distributing information to and from them, and by passing it on to the organized opposition groups and world media. They generally do not initiate demonstrations themselves.

B. NPP TERRITORIAL ASSESSMENT SUMMARIES

1) (U) MOUNTAIN

Governor Paton issued a controversial pardon for armed rebels affiliated with the AWENASA and CUIA. This decision has marked a further departure between the capitals of Raleigh and Columbia and most likely will lead to a formal injunction by the majority Celtic Union (CU) party in the ROP legislature.

Open Source Intelligence (OSINT): IIR 21-17-76-006 WNCT 9 On Your Side Greenville NPP and Eastern NPP News, Weather, Greenville, NPP "NPP Governor and Clergymen issue pardon to native insurgents." (W-005)

Nantahala Autonomous Region, NPP – Several Catholic and Evangelical leaders in NPP attended a pardon ceremony with Governor Paton, who has been under pressure to forgive hundreds of suspected rebels, a sign that the insurgents might be willing to work with the new LPP government. "There must be a full pardon," according to Elouan McGibbs and Asmita Baka, religious men representing the CU and Tsalagi Gawonihisdi (TG), during the ceremony and prayers. They also urged Paton to refuse to "obey and kneel to pressure" from ROP Legislators. The ROP has opposed freeing prisoners or pardoning insurgents. It remains unclear how much political backlash Paton will receive from the action. After he was sworn in as Governor last month, Paton appealed to Nantahala's homegrown militants to work with the newly elected leadership and suggested they could be pardoned, although, he said the NPP government would continue to fight any insurgents that continue violence. "We must find political and peaceful solutions with those duped citizens who have been involved in terrorism and pardon them, and invite them to join the democratic process," Paton said after his inauguration. "But we must firmly counter and isolate the criminal terrorism that's imported from abroad and at home." In Columbia,

//UNCLASSIFIED// (INTSUM 21 W-007 to W-001)

South Pineland Province (SPP), LPP envoy, Jeff McGills, said the disenfranchised citizens in the Western Territory must be included in drafting a new constitution, because, all segments of the population must participate for the political process to succeed. This will also help quell the insurgency, he told reporters.

2) (U) PIEDMONT

Intra-insurgent fighting has escalated, and many innocent bystanders are caught in the violent crossfire. The black separatist organization WU, or the "Builders," has conducted a number of reprisal actions against the rival GRA, primarily in Robeson County and in the City of Fayetteville. Operations continue to successfully identify key leaders within the GRA, AATIMO, and WU. The death of a master bomber for the GRA in Scotland County has caused a significant drop in events associated to IEDs. GRA tactics still employ assassination of religious leaders that participate in MARM rallies and heads of civic organizations that advocate the integration of all ethnicities in NPP. An additional escalation occurred this week with the mass killings of a number of individuals associated with a small but vociferous atheist group that blames most of the current troubles on organized religion. A number of attacks were also leveled against churches during this period.

(SIGACT ROP-711-CP-W-007), Reported by NPP Bureau of Investigation (BOI), Director N. Christian, Fayetteville, 1857 hours, A Remote Controlled (RC) IED event occurred in Cumberland County targeting an African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church. GRA militants have for several weeks threatened attacks, but only carried out a few lone-wolf grenade attacks on meeting places and bars. Attacks on AME Christian churches in NPP have the potential to stir up sectarian conflict in a religiously diverse province like NPP, where 74 percent of the population are Christian, 11 percent are Muslim, and 15 percent are irreligious or atheists.

On W-005, a Police rotary wing asset (Radiant 77) engaged a group of individuals on the fenced compound of a suspected safe house used for distribution of drugs. During the raid, a number of bomb-making materials was confiscated, including homemade explosive recipes and cookware for manufacture of Potassium Chlorate and Hexamethylene Triperoxide Diamine (HMTD). 4 x Detained, 0 x KIA, 0 x WIA.

3) (U) COASTAL

Humanitarian assistance mission continues. Links were established between charity organizations working on Internally Displaced Persons (IDP) camp and Hezbollah. TILTF organization states that it will investigate, but based on the reactions, it is unlikely that this will be pursued.

4) (Exercise Classified) OTHER (UPA):

(Classified) ROP investigators uncovered definitive links between Keel and Nicholas Christian and high-ranking military officials from the UPA assigned to the UPA consulate in Fayetteville. These allegations were made public on W-004. BOI Director Nicholas Christian has dismissed the charges as political blackmail and stated that more important matters, such as battling insurgents should be priority.

Tactical Report (TACREP)/GHT0089-67 (Exercise Classified) National Security Agency (NSA), (W-004)

Multiple sources confirmed the participation of the IRGC Military Director of Operations and his deputy as part of Task Force 20 in the annual UPA EDREX. Seven units of IRGC operatives are also assigned throughout the exercise with UPA Commando Forces.

TACREP/GHT-789 (Exercise Classified Sensitive), On W-003, the ROP Attorney General, Arthur Scott-Coruthers, received a formal statement from the minority leader of the upper house, James Godchild-Hill, and the Reverend Jake Shaw-Roberts charging Nicholas Christian and his brothers, Keel and Kurt Christian, of spying for the UPA over the past two years. The statement also charged the NPP Federal Border Patrol (FBP) Commissioner, Joseph C. Brodskilli. The charges allege that the three Christian brothers arranged numerous trips to the Old Dominion Province where they met with UPA Senator, Pamlee Christian Brodskilli. Senator Brodskilli is a known leader in the Atlantica Democratic Union Party, and a member of the UPA senate from the Old Dominion Province. The ROP authorities also have evidence to support the fact that Senator Brodskilli is closely related to the Christians. The Brodskillis and the Christians grew up only miles apart from each other, but the strained relations between the ROP and the UPA have separated the families and made visiting very difficult over the years. ROP Congressman Hill and Reverend Roberts advocated for a full investigation on this matter, and the Christian brothers were placed on administrative leave pending the outcome of the investigation. It is suspected that familial connections between the Christian lineage and the UPA date back to the early 1900s.

//UNCLASSIFIED// (INTSUM 21 W-007 to W-001)

5) (U) OTHER (ROP):

Tension between Governor Paton and the ruling CU party in Columbia is reaching a boiling point. Fueled by the recent unilateral action to pardon the armed rebels in the western territory, the President is consulting on methods to invalidate Paton's appointment as Governor of the NPP. Meanwhile, Governor Paton insists his position is necessary for the well being of the NPP.

US Embassy Eyes Only Situation Report (SITREP)/XC-OP090_PO [Exercise Classified Sensitive Compartmented Information (SCI)], (W-004). US Ambassador this week recalled General US Consul from Raleigh due to multiple complaints surrounding UPA intrusions into diplomatic cables routed through ROP secret protocols. These active events of spying and phishing for information have triggered a shutdown of US diplomatic operations in the NPP. The cyber attacks and interventions may have originated in China and may have been facilitated via the UPA Consulate in Raleigh.

C. ADDITIONAL REPORTING (SIGNIFICANT THREATS)

Air. Nothing Significant to Report

Paramilitary/Irregular/Other.

Rivalry between insurgent factions caused a number of civilian casualties. The GRA is systematically targeting leaders of the MARM and religious factions who support the minority populations. The attacks occur regardless of specific religious affiliation, but this period included a number of influential AME churches in NPP. Hoke County is still a very volatile area where many supporters of the GRA are believed to operate freely. Insurgents are now utilizing a vast spotter network largely of young men and children recruited directly from the population. The WU is the primary adversary of the GRA and has provided some targeting information to TILTF forces through undisclosed intermediaries. These resulted in successful kill-capture operations and removed a number of key individuals in the insurgency. According to JPEL GH-H67, Rowan Maxwell, the GRA Leader, is still active and previous reports of his capture were discredited during interrogations. Many prisons in NPP are accumulating a number of supporters for the GRA as inmates, and concern is mounting over continued collaboration for the GRA within the walls of the ROP prison system.

Operation "Clean Sweep" concluded this week and is credited with disrupting the AATIMO operational cells. Improvised Rocket-Assisted Mortar (IRAM) attacks attributed to AATIMO on Camp Mackall have ceased. Multiple detainees have corroborated suspicions that AATIMO supporters and the underground are unwilling to continue funding and providing moral support to the cause. Moderates split away and now are demonstrating with supporters on the streets. No cyber attacks on ROP units were reported during this period.

Insurgents are establishing rudimentary dispute resolution programs in several rural civilian areas. GRA especially continues to employ misinformation regarding the ROP and NPP in an effort to influence local farmers to continue marijuana cultivation. They are also regulating some of the illicit liquor production labs; even though they advocate zero tolerance for alcohol.

D. CIVIL CONSIDERATIONS AND IMPACTS

Civilians in the Piedmont are suffering the most from the lack of security, poor economic conditions, and lower standards of living. In all, the Territory has lost approximately 10-20 percent of the population to other Territories or to the SPP. Most are skilled laborers.

E. NOTABLE TRENDS IN THREAT ACTIVITY [INDICATIONS AND WARNINGS (I&W)]

J. HIGH PAYOFF TARGET LIST (HPTL)/HIGH VALUE TARGET (HVT) LIST

Updated in separate reporting.

K. OVERALL ESTIMATE

UPA military infrastructure continued posturing for a singular large-scale exercise. “Operation Pit Bull” is in the final stages of planning and almost all the forces indicated by the UPA state-run media are in place. A simulated invasion of adversarial JTF-20 conventional forces faces the Peoples Liberation Task Force headed by General Brodskilli, a veteran of the Afghanistan conflict. Foreign advisors are also participating at the field grade level and above in staffs and units on both sides. This large display of military hardware forced the ROP to elevate its military preparedness levels, and several units were placed in garrison. Simultaneously, several large and disruptive protests continue in the NPP primarily by government civil service workers that are suffering from the economic downturn. Current situation is still very unstable and violent in one of three Territories in the NPP. Concerning shifts in the NPP leadership away from the ROP center of gravity is the highlight of this period. Even though counter insurgency (COIN) operations continue unabated, other drivers indicate that the NPP is posturing for a possible breakaway from the ROP Government. After the ROP protested UPA advisors and the unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs), a significant number of LPP officials were appointed to open positions throughout the NPP. This can only be seen as posturing for a potential takeover. Rhetoric between the NPP Governor and President Canteth has grown openly antagonistic, and the two were seen accusing each other of stalling the progress of the NPP.

The insurgency now includes the WU who was accused of involvement in a mass transit attack in the Western Province, and is also suspected of conducting direct reprisals against the actions of the GRA. AATIMO is no longer a lethal threat in the NPP, but maintains the will and technical expertise to reinitiate a violent campaign at any time. Several members of the Shia community have also been promoted within the NPP Coastal Territory. This move is seen as a potential appeasement to the disenfranchised population, but can also be interpreted as a possible association with UPA-IRGC.

Demonstrations continued this week, but were subdued due to the violence on the streets and the signing of the first covenant of the peace accords...the pardon of fighters.

President Canteth is very concerned with the situation in the NPP, especially after the US Consul was recalled from Raleigh. Additionally, he is losing political power in Columbia every time the NPP undertakes unilateral actions. President Canteth has invited the US Secretary of State for some consultations regarding the expansion of Chinese, Iranian, and Venezuelan embassies in the UPA. The links discovered last week between organized crime in the Cherokee National Forest TBR and high-ranking UPA officials included the UPA Director of Defense Mr. Lester Downs.

(Exercise Classified) NSA Analyst Comments: The US Trade Transparency Unit (TTU) discovered links between corrupt officials on NPP border counties of Alleghany, Ashe, and Surry and the UPA counties of Lee, Scott, and Washington. UPA Director of Defense, Mr. Downs is also implicated through his familial ties to several corrupt officials in Lee County, UPA. Mr. Downs also blocked the extradition notice for the current UPA Military Attaché in Raleigh, UPA Army Gen Francis Mordant who was accused of War Crimes against the Afghan People in 1982 by the International Criminal Court (ICC).
